

Wines Like No Other

Roseburg is the heart of the scenic recreational paradise known as the Land of Umpqua. This land of authentic outdoor adventures and experiences is bordered by picturesque rivers, lush valleys and one of Oregon's fastest growing wine regions. There are more than two dozen boutique wineries in the Umpqua Valley receiving international acclaim for a diverse array of wines.

Oregon's first Pinot Noir vines were planted in 1961 in the Land of Umpqua, opening the doors for Oregon's wine industry. Today, local vintners continue to pioneer advanced winemaking techniques and viticulture technology while creating finely crafted wines.

The diverse terroir from which the grapes grow contributes greatly to making truly vibrant wines. The mineral rich soil throughout the Umpqua Valley is comprised of sediment from riverbeds and three different mountain ranges providing an array of growing conditions from shale to red clay. With warmer temperatures during the day, grapes are cooled at night by gentle winds from the Pacific coast breeze allowing grapes to gradually ripen and develop a greater complexity of flavor.

The region's unique microclimates and geology give vintners the ability to grow numerous varieties from around the world including: Albariño, Grenache, Baco Noir, Syrah, Cabernet Sauvignon, Chardonnay, Tempranillo, and Riesling. You might discover a few grapes you've never heard of as you sip your way through the pastoral countryside.

It's all here in the Land of Umpqua. So stay and enjoy Roseburg's variety of lodging properties, local restaurants and brew pubs. Take a stroll through historic downtown and discover unique monuments, shops and galleries. Explore new hiking trails, visit pristine waterfalls or go fly fishing on the North Umpqua River as you travel the Rogue Umpqua Scenic Byway to Crater Lake, Oregon's only national park. Roseburg is in the center of it all; the perfect destination to combine favorite activities and adventures while discovering new ones.
